

xyzmo SIGNificant Group Joins BlackBerry Alliance Program

Jersey City, NJ July 17, 2008 – xyzmo SIGNificant Group, a leading international digital and e-signature technology provider, has joined the BlackBerry® Independent Software Vendor (ISV) Alliance Program. xyzmo SIGNificant now offers their unique mobile solutions for BlackBerry® smartphones from Research In Motion (RIM) (Nasdaq: RIMM; TSX: RIM).

xyzmo SIGNificant Group provides cutting edge digital and electronic signature technology which includes SIGNificant Flow, a web-based application designed to allow the easy creation and control of organizational document & signature flow. Users within large organizations will now be able to use this document workflow component on their BlackBerry smartphones and sign documents digitally, using a digital certificate and a PIN code. Since the signing process is completed on the handset, electronic enterprise procedures such as an approval process can be executed even though users are outside of the office.

By eliminating document printing, scanning and handling, SIGNificant can transform any company into a time-efficient and environmentally friendly place. SIGNificant allows users to sign documents on any mobile device by simply using the Internet or company intranet. For example, employees can sign reports on their office computers, field agents can sign contracts by remotely connecting their laptops to the company network, etc. All of these processes and more are now available for use on a BlackBerry smartphone.

“We are pleased to be a Blackberry Alliance member and look forward to providing solutions that will be able to support customers using the BlackBerry solution and improve workflows,” said Juergen Hirtenfelder, Managing Director of xyzmo USA LLC.
